Dear Member,

Australia has a crisis of insecure work, low wages and an unfair bargaining system and Scott Morrison's Liberals are to blame.

That's why working people are taking action with political protests for wage rises and better job security.

The Morrison Government has overseen the largest decline in living standards in 30 years. If we do not tackle inequality, we will see further Americanisation of our society. This is not something we can accept.

That's why we are going to change the government, and change the rules.

Protests are taking place in cities and regions across the country on Wednesday 10 April to stand up for the fair go.

Members who are not on duty are encouraged to attend the rally closest to them. A complete list of locations has been reproduced below:
